PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
WESTTOWN SCHOOL
WESTTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

"Greetings, Friend!"

Westtown,

To thee or not to thee: there is no question of our fidelity.

Whether 'tis the sports, the shack parties, the plays and operettas, or the classes which we will miss the most, it is hard to decide.

To cram — to pass — no more; and by a commencement to say we end the comradeship and the thousand natural shikes that second floor is heir to is not so; it has all become a part of us and we will ne'er forget.

To know Westtown — to remember — to leave, perchance never to return; aye, there's the rub;

For what memories may come when we turn the pages of this yearbook must give us pause.

Pray, therefore, join us and turn each page with reverent hand as we review our Senior year.

The Big Four

*"We would
and we would not"*

This year is Westtown's third under Master Dan Test's leadership. When we remember his contribution to the school and to us, we'll think also of his friendly nod in the hall, public speaking classes, and his words of wisdom.

We'll not forget our Deans' splendid job. We'll think of this first year with teacher Anne as Girls' Dean and of the times we came to her room to chat, listen to music or to "Pooh". We'll remember Master Charlie for his kindly and sincere advice given in that easy drawl, his wide grin, and his red tie for monthlies.

To Teacher Rachel, in this her first year as Assistant Principal, we'll look back appreciating her wise planning and those confidential talks so spiced with wit.

Above all, we'll remember with a warm feeling that these four have been our teachers, advisers and friends throughout our years at Westtown.

Student Body Presidents

"All's well that ends well"

"Moderation is the word" is Marsie Levering's motto as emphasized in her campaign speech last year. When Marsie emerged victorious in the elections, she added S.B.P. to her already impressive list of extra-curricular activities. She came to Westtown in her sophomore year, and in the three years she's been here, she's readily taken an active part in sports and class functions. A member of the hockey and lacross teams, basketball squad, she also has been on the Ring and Pin Committee, in the Senior Play, and Mixed Chorus.

As S.B.P. Marsie helped instigate the Song and Cheer Contest and the project of painting the once shabby casino. Her sense of humor, friendliness and wise judgment in Council have had excellent morale boosting effects on the school. We all take our hats off to her for the fine work she has done this year.

When Lou came to Westtown his sophomore year, his abilities were already obvious. He was a council member, made two varsities, and took leadership in class activities his first year. The next year, Lou added to his honors two semesters of council member, class president, and three more varsities. Lou was the obvious one to take the helm of Council when the time came for elections for that top office a student can hold, S.B.P. His efficiency was exceeded only by his good nature and fairness. This year has proved to be equal to all expectations as far as Lou is concerned. Not only has he captained the soccer team, ably managed the sports page of the school paper, and gained the society of Cum Laude at midyear, but has done a great deal as S.B.P. towards making this year a successful one for Westtown.

Boys' Council

"Are you good men and true?"

This year Boys' Council proved to be a strong and efficient organization. Under Lou Matlack, our S.B.P., and Dick Trismen, Chief Proctor, several improvements were made. The most important of these was the establishment of the Discipline Committee made up of the Chief Proctor, the Council secretary, and one rotating member. This committee handled the punishment for latenesses and sleepovers. The change gave Council extra time formerly used in deciding these disciplinary measures thus allowing it to concentrate more on constructive business.

The Christmas dance, the refinishing of the Casino and the Handbook were undertaken by the joint councils. Among other accomplishments of Boys' Council were the repairing of the horse shoe pits, subscribing to Magazines for the Boys' parlors and in general keeping the school morale on a high level.

Wendy Walcott, President Marsie Levering, Janet Hetzel, Faculty Adviser — Anne Wood, Liz Ermilio, Alice Willcox, Sandy Turner, Gail Dresden, Janet Silver, Kathy Preston.

Girls' Council

"Good counsellors lack no clients"

Girls' Council this year accomplished quite a few things; and aside from the perennial latenesses and minor shikes, it met with few disciplinary problems. Some of the accomplishments resulted from the Suggestion Box, some from the Work Shop, and some from Council's own ingenuity. It sponsored sandwich sales Friday nights to get money for a steam iron for Bacon Cottage. Also, it bought a subscription to the "Saturday Evening Post" for the Girls' parlor. A more important innovation was the representation of day students on Council.

Other activities were the initiation of new students, the Christmas Dance with Boys' Council, the painting of the Casino and the inaugural party at the end of the year in which the old Girls' Council gives way to the newly appointed one. Again Council lived up to its high standard.

Work Program Committee

*"A piece of work
so bravely done"*

A lively chorus of "Hey! What's your new work-job?" rose from around the newly posted work-job lists regularly every three weeks. The Work Program Committee led by students Steffie Hetzel and Doug Kinsey with the able assistance and guidance of Master Russ Edgerton, Teacher Laurel Bunker, Teacher Ernestine Hoff and Teacher Ann Laidlaw, was the cause of this periodical outburst. Every Tuesday after lunch, Work Program met faithfully, and it was at these meetings that any wrinkles or problems connected with workjobs were ironed out; new problems were brought up; and various systems whereby jobs could be made more efficient were discussed.

Backed by the good spirit and helpful cooperation of the student body, Work Program Committee could work to its fullest ability and when the year had ended look back with a feeling of satisfaction.

Steering Committee

This year's Steering Committee prescribed "turnabouts" for the non-daters and square dancing for the peppy enthusiasts. It also sponsored a "sing session" under Master Hank and collected records of various kinds for the listening enjoyment of daters as well as singles in South Room. The committee worked hard at thinking up new and novel activities. Such things as dancing on the tennis court terrace Wednesday after supper, volley ball contests, and informal student talent shows were presented to the student body with good results. It also planned games in the Casino and had open-parlors at various times.

The "big wheels" of the Steering Committee were Ralph Fairchild and Pat Hunt. Faculty advisers were Teacher Anne Wood and Master Jan Long. They had a most efficient and willing crew, which kept the students supplied with after dinner social activities.

past our dancing days"*

Religious Life Committee

"Spirits of the age"

The Religious Life Committee as it is today is one of the newer committees in the school. Since its revival a few years ago, the Student Council has elected its members. This year it consisted of two boys and two girls from each of the upper three classes and was supervised by Master Tom Purdy.

The committee's concern was the planning of the Sunday evening Vesper services. To have as much variety as possible in the programs, there were talks by faculty members, directed meditations, play and story readings, and a series of speakers from other religious denominations. Student participation in the services was encouraged.

The committee has worked well together and accomplished a great deal.

FRONT ROW: Alice Willcox, Dottie Franks, Claudia Barclay. Service Committee

"Service is no heritage"

This year the Service Committee was very energetic. There was, of course, no chance to try to repeat a work-camp for this summer, so the efforts were centered upon a possible exchange student for next year or some year in the near future.

Under Jane Lippincott and Dave Wilcox, the Service Committee began a new system of rotating members to bring the committee closer to the student body.

During the Christmas drive, food auctions and cake sales were held, Christmas cards were made and sold, and articles were knit for sending abroad. With the help and guidance of Teachers Marty Giessler, Louise Hart, and Agnes Thomas, and Master Gene Hogenauer, the committee had a successful and busy year.

Boys' A.A.

"O there be players"

The Boys' Athletic Association during the '52-'53 school year was led by Colonel, faculty adviser, and Jerry Michener, president; Kirk Jones and Gil Hoag served as clerk and treasurer respectively. The rest of the board was composed of Joe Flanagan, a manager on last years board, and the new managers of the various sports.

Several times during the year, the executive board met with the captains and coaches of the different teams to get suggestions which would enable it to solve the various A.A. problems. The popular Brown and White competitions were made to run more smoothly. A.A. also chose the winners of the Varsity and Junior Varsity letters and handled the finances of the athletic program. Both A.A.s were active in the ceremonies involving the laying of the corner-stone of the new gym.

Girls' A.A.

"There, were good sports."

This year was quite a successful one financially as well as functionally for the Girls' Athletic Association. The candy store brought in much profit. With some of this money, A.A. gave a party for the girls, and bought new athletic equipment.

The executives for this year were: Linda Johanning, president; Kit Woods, vice-president; Char Penfield, secretary; and Peg James, all-important treasurer. Along with these four, a board of team managers was included in the association.

Not to be forgotten was the fun and friendly competition of the intramural games. Joyce Lower, captain of the Brown team, and Pat Hunt, captain of the White team were also included in the A.A. From the board goes much gratitude to teacher Mary Borton, faculty adviser.

Did somebody say Sunday chaos in the Senior Parlor? That means only one thing: Work Sunday for the 1953 staff of the Brown and White, the school newspaper. Helen and Doug, heading the crew as co-editors, more than once switched the board around, adding, subtracting, and working for the best teamwork and skill among their staff members.

Such Sundays brought batteries of typewriters, paper, victrolas, and cookies, and about ten Bee and Dubbers jammed into the Girls' Senior Parlor. "Who wants to headline?", "Penelope, it's all yours!", "Pass the cookies", and "Who wrote this little mess?", rose at frequent intervals above Brahms' First and the banging typewriters. Yes, they were fantastic, hard-working days. We hate to realize that when Volume XXXVIII—Number 8, goes to press, it will be our last. However, we hasten to add that everything that comes from being on that great staff is contagious; so we pass it all on, the work, the fun, the jokes, to you the board of '54, with our best wishes for a successful year.

Sincerely yours,

The Staff

This year the Amicus staff, with Janet Hetzel as Editor and Dick Trismen managing the business, found itself completely new at the yearbook business with our faculty adviser, Master Gene Hogenauer, learning the ropes along with us. His knowledge of and interest in photography proved to be of great help to Dick and Nan in the planning and taking of the pictures, as we decided to put more emphasis on photography in the yearbook. Quite a few things were changed and added this year; the major ones being the different order of sections, the photograph divider pages and the descriptive Shakespeare quotations.

The cooperation of the senior class was much appreciated by Janet at the writing end and Bob with the typing. Senior committees were formed for Shakespeare quotations, Senior wills and the prophecy. Between Gil gathering ads, and Charlie and Norma selling subscriptions, the finances were very well taken care of.

We'll remember the initial confusion; the rain every day Felicia and Joe scheduled fall sports pix; Neil and Margie's Dec. 1 characteristics deadline; gradually getting things under control; sneaking in just under the deadlines; the rubber cementing sessions; Norm's designing and Edaik's dramatic Dachshunds; and then looking forward to the glorious day when the product of all our trials and tribulations would lie in our hands — all 192 pages of it!

Orchestra

"O there be players"

This year the orchestra was an enthusiastic group consisting of a great many new, as well as old, students. It was ably directed by John Burrows, who has conducted orchestra now for four years. Every Tuesday and Thursday after supper, practices were held in the Casino for the two major programs of the year: a concert given in the winter and the playing of the overture to the Operetta in the spring. Among the selections played were pieces by Beethoven, Bach, Hayden, Strauss and Lehar. Much work went into the two programs and everyone appreciated the excellent results.

Girls' Glee Club "So musical a discord"

This year the Glee Club, directed by Teacher Dot Gould, had thirty-two members from all four classes. Although it is primarily for non-Mixed-Chorus members who enjoy singing, several Chorus and some Orchestra members joined.

Their main program of the year was the Christmas Vespers service, in which they presented the Cantata, "Petit Noel". This is the second year they have sung these beautiful old French carols, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

In addition to putting on programs, the Glee Club enjoyed occasional informal song fests.

Senior Sextet

"To slander music"

Not to be outdone by the class of '52, a new Senior Sextet was organized this year under the able directing of Master Hank Beebe. It made its debut in joint collection early in November and was greeted by an enthusiastic audience. Traditional barber shop melodies, rhythms, popular tunes and semi-classicals constituted its repertoire. We are sure that they have added much to the memories of the class of '53.

Not to be outdone by the boys, the girls this year organized their own sextet. Under the talented guiding hand of Teacher Ernestine Hoff, who organized most of the music, the girls rendered "sweet strains" in girls' morning collection and in later shows. This organization was formed mainly for enjoyment, leaving the professional, polished performances to the boys. However, the rest of us certainly had as much pleasure in hearing them sing as they had in singing.

Fred Sawin, Phil Richardson, Chad Squires.

Stage Crew

Boys dangling atop thirty foot ladders; boys with "All the world's a stage" coils of black cable entwined about them like an octopus strangling its prey; boys hammering together tables, window frames, doors, anything: this is the all-efficient, ever-ready Stage Crew. The regular bulb-snatchers this year were Chad Squires, Phil Richardson, Don Boyd, and Fred Sawin, the chairman and only four-year veteran. These delinquents are represented and assisted by Master Burdette Bernard, their faculty adviser.

The Stage Crew's four main undertakings of the year were the Senior Play, Shakespeare Play, Faculty Play, and Operetta. They also took care of the lighting technicalities for the big dances, Saturday evening programs, Vesper services, and "Kollecting Room Kinema", weekly movies at Boys' End.

The crew's ambition is to have all the keys in the world and a tool room to keep them in; it's destined to be always an all male scavenger party.

Mixed Chorus

"Such harmony is in immortal souls"

This year Mixed Chorus was at the height of its existence with the grand total of 74 members. Its officers were president, Bob Banham, vice president, Dick Trismen, and secretary Char Penfield. Its director was Master Hank Beebe.

This was Master Hank's second year as head of the music department. His ability and sincere enthusiasm has aroused a great deal of interest in music throughout the school. Much appreciation goes to Teacher Ernestine Hoff who accompanied the chorus on the piano.

The first chorus performance was included in the Christmas Concert. Its repertory consisted of such varied selections as "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", "Walking in a Winter Wonderland", "Behold That Star" and the "Halelujah Chorus" which successfully climaxed the program.

The most important performance of the year was the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Princess Ida". In the Spring, Chorus gave another program.

Master Hank's aim was to have Mixed Chorus an organization in which singing was enjoyed informally as well as perfected. Chorus not only achieved this goal but also gained the reputation of giving top-rate entertainment.

Although "Princess Ida", given March 7, 1953, is not one of Gilbert and Sullivan's best known operettas, its plot and songs are quite enjoyable. Princess Ida, denouncing men, lived as the leader of a hundred, intellectual school maids in Castle Adamant. At the age of one, she had been wed to a Prince Hilarion who was against her secluded life. He and two friends, Cyril and Florian, went to Castle Adamant, and disguising themselves as "lady under-graduates" entered. Florian ran across his sister, Psyche, a teacher there, but she was sworn to secrecy as were Melissa and her Mother, Lady Blanche. Princess Ida discovering that the three new-comers were really men prepared to punish them. However, King Hildebrand told her that if she would not go back to his son, there would be a war. She remained stubborn and a fight began in which Ida's three brothers, Arac, Guron, and Scynthus were wounded. In the end Ida gave in and everyone was happy, including Melissa and Florian who had fallen in love, as well as Cyril and Lady Psyche.

Thanks and applause are due to the unsung heros who make a production like this successful: Master Bernie for his directing; Master Harold and Teacher Ernestine for their conducting and piano playing; and Teacher Dot for her prompting.

"The play's the thing"

The Senior Play of the class of '53 was a departure from the usual high school production. Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth" had the progression and story of Man through the ages for its plot, with Man's mistakes and faults for its drama and humor. To show how Man escaped punishment for his foolishness only by the "skin of his teeth", the play dramatized three instances: the almost complete annihilation by the Ice Age, the Flood, and a World War.

The human race was personified in the family of George Antrobus, his wife, Eva, Henry and Gladys, their two children, and maid Sabina. It was George Antrobus' unconquerable spirit that saved his race from each new disaster. Repeatedly, Sabina stepped out of her "part" to denounce the theater in general and the play in particular. The play's seriousness was neatly spiced with subtle humor which made for all-around entertainment.

To the cast, all the committees and faculty advisors, and the directors, Master Bernie Haviland and Teacher Agnes Finnie, goes much high praise for a truly penetrating performance.

"The wide and universal theatre"

Keeping up with tradition, the annual Shakespeare play was presented on May 30 before a large Alumni Day audience. This year, one of the better know tragi-comedies, "The Merchant of Venice", was chosen.

The plot of the play is centered about three couples: Bassanio and Portio, Gratiano and Narissa, and Lorenzo and Jessica. In one way and another their marital bliss is affected by the cruelty of a rich Jew, Shylock, Jessica's father. Portio with her quick wit and clever mind sets all to rights. The lighter parts of the play are created by the humorous antics of the clown, Launcelot, Gobbo and his old father.

After much practice, the actors prepared for the final night. From the confusing crowd of make-up daubers and costume fixers in Bacon Cottage they emerged new personalities and convincing characters. Their enthusiastic presentation was most entertaining and merited much applause as did the directors, Master Bernie Haviland and Teacher Agnes Finnie and costume adviser, Teacher Gladys Fleming, without whose help the play could not have been successfully produced.

Brandywine Club

"We'll pluck a crow together"

The Brandywine Club, under the direction of Master Fred Swan and Master Jan Long, sponsored several projects to get students more acquainted with the out-of-doors and with conservation in Chester County. Chester County has become a model community, and awakens others to the needs and importance of conservation. Several annual activities which were carried on included taking a trip to Hawk Mountain in the fall and to Bombay Hook in the spring; making several hikes around Chester County; listing birds which were seen within a one mile radius of Westtown by posting a picture of the bird with the name of the person who saw it first and the date; doing a similar listing with spring flowers; putting various biological exhibits in Central.

The Brandywine Club is one of the organizations which the Alumni Association sponsors financially. Because of this aid, free trips are possible for a large number of students.

Soccer

"A buck of the 1st head"

The Brown and White soccermen opened the season impressively with a 3-0 win over Friend Central. Masters Bob English, Kenneth Nicholson, and Dan Test had moulded a strong aggregation around four returning lettermen. The defense, with Jerry Michener in the goal and Ralph Fairchild and Tom Van Arkle as fullbacks, was superior from the start. Center forward Bob Banham, was the core of an interchangeable, unpredictable offense. The halfbacks, Phil Stevenson, Bob Strickland, and Captain Lou Matlack, made a reliable trio.

Fine support and cooperation contributed to the success of the team which won not only respect as a clean team but some honors for individual players as well.

Hockey

"Folks chase a ball that's rolling"

Westtown's Varsity hockey team completed a successful season of 6 wins, 1 tie, and 2 losses, with J.V. reversing the count 2-6 with 1 tie also. With a back-log of veterans: Linda Johanning, Joyce Lower, Marsie Levering, Laura Comfort, Kit Woods, and Janet and Steffie Hetzel, from last year's squad, Varsity made a fine start, tied George School, and was undefeated until the last two games. The Varsity line-up was as follows: L.W. Helga Pfund; L.I. Sally Barton; C.F. Kit Woods; R.I. Alice Dewey; R.W. Janet Hetzel; L.H. Joyce Lower; C.H. Steffie Hetzel, Captain; R.H. Marsie Levering; L.F. Linda Johanning; R.F. Laura Comfort, and last but far from least, Goalie Laura Spelman.

Boys' Basketball

"The strength of 20 men"

Although last year's high scorer and this year's co-captain, Bob Fisher, was kept out of the games by a broken leg, this year's basketball team racked up some roaring victories. Coach Colonel Raiford organized a Varsity around three returning lettermen, co-captain Jerry Michener, Lou Matlack, and Tom van Arkel. Also on the team were Phil Stevenson, Ralph Fairchild, Bob Strickland and newcomers Covie Winsor and Dave Hobbs. Many of our victorious scores left our opponents far behind. Among our outstanding Jayvee players were newcomers John James, Pete Yoder and Dave Corkey.

The hope of having winning teams in the future is high. With the material remaining on the varsity, we should have as good if not a better team next year.

Girls' Basketball

"The game is up"

There was a large turnout of talent for the basketball team this year, and Teacher Laurel had a difficult time choosing the Varsity. When the team was chosen, the girls settled down to work and quickly improved their skills. Moorestown found the team still new but by the time we played Wilmington, our girls were ready and teamwork was at its premium; all the games after this were well played and good sportsmanship was shown.

Linda Johanning, captain and high scorer, Kit Woods, Alice Dewey, and Laura Spelman composed the forward line-up, while Marsie Levering, Joyce Lower, Laura Comfort, and Barbara Rusch made up the first-string guards. Versatile Carol Bacon captained the Jay Vees. Many thanks go to Coach, Teacher Laurel Bunker, and Manager, Margie Satterthwaite.

Boys' Swimming

"Fish in troubled waters"

The "mermen" of 1953 looked forward to a successful season with a fully packed schedule, deepened pool, new diving board, and more spectator facilities. Under the able coaching of Master Fred, the boys worked hard to get in the proper condition. Three returning lettermen, Steve Payson, Neil Plass, and Dan Wills plus Tom Meyer, John Stefferud, and Mark Coplan formed the main support of the team. Others were: Bill Lloyd and Pete Badeau — diving and Charly Brock, Roger Badeau, Hans Lawaetz, Dick Soloman, Ronald Bodkin, and Pete Lawrence.

With Phil Richardson as manager, and Payson and Plass as co-captains, the team completed a good season containing a majority of wins and several close loses. There were many exciting meets for both the team and spectators.

Girls' Swimming

Dear Nancy,
 Hope you have a terrific time with Sally! I know you will have to stir
 up some excitement, o.k.?
 love,
 Judy

A daily procession of girls with straggly, wet hair coming from the direction of the pool was a true indication of the Swimming team's faithful practice. Westtown's 1953 mermaids were coached by Teacher Mary Borton, and managed by Joyce Hunter. Two very close meets were held with Baldwin and George School.

The speed demons who won us points in races were Jan McGourty, Barbara Brock — free style; Eve Mitchell and Mona Johanning — back crawl; Steffie Hetzel and Pat Hunt — breast stroke. Scoring for diving were Janet Hetzel, captain, Sybil Stocking, and Judy Graham. Teddy Bersbach, Katy Scott, Betty Lou Wilson, and Barbara Comroe were also on the team.

Next year's team promises to be very successful for this year's was comprised largely of underclassmen — Good luck to them!

"Very like a whale"

Baseball

"A bit, a very palpable bit"

Even before the last winter snow had fallen, several baseball enthusiasts were loosening up their arms in hopes of earning a place on this year's Varsity. However, with seven returning from last year's squad, there are only a few vacant positions. Captain Dick Trismen is the second baseman in the returning infield which lost only a third sacker. Several of last year's outfield alternates are also back, along with two pitchers from the '52 season. Coach Colonel Raiford hopes to be able to mold a winning combination around this core of more or less experienced players. However, since only time will tell, everyone is anxiously awaiting the first game of this promising season.

Lacrosse

"Tomorrow in the battle, think of me"

A deft catch, a skilled cradle and then an accurate shot scoring again for us was the result of the faithful practice of our lacrosse team. This year, there were eleven girls returning from last year's squad: Steffie and Janet Hetzel, Marsie Levering, Carol Bacon, Joyce Lower, Linda Johanning, Laura Comfort, Kit Woods, Sally Barton, and Helga Pfund. Manager for this year was Mona Johanning. Many newcomers clearly indicated that there was much active enthusiasm.

Larger than usual, the schedule arranged by Coach Mary Borton included games with our arch rival, George School, Sanford Prep., Radnor, and the third and fourth teams of Swarthmore. As usual, games were exciting for the team and spectators as well.

Nancy,
I hope you feel better after your surgery.
You should have been in the English class this year.
That would have really finished it.

Boys' Tennis

"The faith they have in tennis"

The tennis team is looking forward to the fullest season it has ever had. Thirteen matches have been scheduled for this year. With only four letter-men returning from last year, the team cannot be too confident; however, there seem to be many promising players among the newcomers.

The first match is to be held with Upper Darby only three days after Spring Vacation. This limited time for practising before launching the season rather handicaps the team, but they hope to be able to build up gradually to the final match with George School on Alumni Day.

Girls' Tennis

"Harp not on that string"

With the able leadership of Teacher Mary Borton and the commodiousness of the all-weather tennis courts, the tennis team can't help having a good season. Also contributing to its success will be the returning members of last year's team: Alice Dewey, Kit Woods, Linda Johanning, Janet and Steffie Hetzel, Joyce Lower, Joyce Canady, Carol Corkey, Manager for this year, Laura Comfort, Marilyn de Beus, and Pat Hunt. During the season, there will be matches with Baldwin, Germantown, Wilmington, Moorestown, Abington, Tower Hill and, most important of all, George School. There's no doubt that competition and enthusiasm will be running high.

Track

"Toes unplagued with corns"

The track team, coached by Masters Jan Long and Fred Swan, got off to an early start this year by entering both the Bridgeton and Penn Relays. Captain and miler Gil Hoag led the runners as they faced stiff competition in six dual meets. However, with strong support from lettermen Ralph Fairchild, and T.H. Johnson, the team proved to be more successful than last year's. Since most of the meets were held on our own track, manager Don Boyd was kept busy lining running lanes and making jumping pits.

Supported enthusiastically by the school, Westtown's track team enjoyed another good season.

Archery

"Sits the wind in that corner?"

The "Robin Hood's Men" for this year will be a completely new set of archers, for last year's team was made up entirely of members of the graduating class. Interest is high, however, and it won't be hard to find a new team.

Coach Teacher Laurel Bunker will be kept busy demonstrating skills, improving those of the girls and preparing them for the two tournaments which have been scheduled for this '53 season. The tournaments will be held with Friends' Central at their archery range and with George School here on our own home ground. Liz Ermilio is manager of the team.

Cheerleaders

"They send their shouts to the stars"

Cheerleading try-outs were encouraged this year. Since the old cheerleaders, Steffie and Janet Hetzel, Janet McClure, Kit Woods and Joyce Hunter were all seniors, they decided that five subs rather than the usual two should be chosen to insure a full veteran squad next year. Sybil Stocking, Ann Biddle, Mona Johanning, Dinny Pullin and Judy Graham were selected. The group felt the need for something new and peppy in its repertory, and the result was the addition of several new and original cheers.

Not only the spirited participation and cooperation of the students and faculty contributed toward making the pep rallies and games successful, but the work of the cheerleaders showed that Westtown's support of its teams was actively whole-hearted.

Third Class and Below

"The best in these kind are but shadows"

Fourteen new girls and eighteen new boys along with the returning ninth grade students formed the class of '56. To lead them in their year's work the class elected Ben Smith as president, Bonny Moxey vice-president, John Scarborough as secretary, and Charlie Brock as Treasurer. Third Class was represented well on the Service and Steering committees. Many freshmen participated in the Glee Club and also had the distinction of making varsity teams and Honor Roll. Without a doubt, the class of '56 was quite active this year.

"And Below" is a rather weak title for the seventh and eighth grades who deserve more recognition. The Stone House soccer and baseball games were important contributions to our athletics. Cake sales and the cider concession run by Pete Adams constituted two of these grades' enterprises. Under the guidance of Teacher Louise Hart, Teacher Mable Elliott and Master Tom Purdy, the seventh and eighth graders have contributed much to activities at Westtown.

Second Class WON'T it be a lucky break if we had a match class together next year! same J.

"There's time enough for that"

Second Class started out this year by electing Dick Solomon as president, Marion Bonner as vice-president, Clara St. John secretary, and Pete Yoder treasurer. As a class, it had a lot of fun on camp suppers, at class parties, decorating for dances and in its rather tempestuous class meetings.

Second classmen have taken part in school activities in a big way. Gail Dresden, Alice Wilcox, Day, James, Hobbs, Lawaetz and several others were on Council; Service Committee had the aid of Alice Wilcox and Dave Daniels. Helping out the Work Program were Teddy Bersbach and John James. Second Class was also represented in Religious Life Committee, Steering Committee and the cheerleading squad. It had members on the hockey, soccer, swimming, basketball and baseball teams as well, not to mention the famous Hole Committee that engaged in various informative projects during the year.

First Class

"O brave new world that has such people in it"

The class of '54 has grown in size and importance. Its leadership was provided by President Bob Strickland and vice-president Marilyn de Beus. Secretary and treasurer were Carol Rush and Val McCloskey, respectively.

On Council were Sandy Turner, Janet Silver, Kathy Preston, Phil Stevenson, Doug Kerr and Chad Squires. The hardworking Service Committee Members were Laura Davis and Lou Stamberg; Work Program was well represented by Judy Cannon and Billy Lloyd. The literary organizations also claim First Class members: on the Brown and White newspaper staff were Associate editors Helen Boulware and Phil Stevenson and Lou Stamberg; as "apprentices" on the Amicus Staff were Ginno Wickham, Anne Harrison, Chad Squires and Phil Stevenson.

An all-around Class, it had a great deal of scholastic ability, and also gave many members to varsity sports. In this class of '54, the school has promise of an outstanding Senior group.

Do You

September: Those first few days filled with excitement, new and old faces, names and regulations, home-sickness, initiations, newly acquired school supplies; classes beginning to take shape at camp suppers and meetings; first practice soccer game.

October: Those weeks of polio quarantine we felt we couldn't endure; first work day outdoors; beginning of Senior play rehearsals; Indian summer weather; Senior breakfast hike to Valley Forge; ingenious Halloween festivities.

November: The excitement and disappointment of elections: Ike, the winnah!; Senior play hustled into performance; George School soccer game in the mud (We'd rather not discuss that little incident); back to civilization for Thanksgiving vacation.

December: First ice on the lake; the laying of the corner stone of the new gym (at last!); Senior wassail party at Bacon; Christmas caroling, the smell of evergreens in the halls, and Santa's face beaming from both collecting rooms; that "Evening in Paris" and on a foreign planet; candle-lit Christmas dinner.

January: Returning from Christmas vacation with new hairstyles and tans; the sad departure of Master Kenneth and the welcomed return of Master Jack; those flu shots which "wouldn't hurt a bit" (oh yeah?); finding out that the faculty could be just as crazy as we are, in "What a Life"; The long anticipated end of the first semester.

February: In and Out and 'Round Abouts; hasty preparation for "Princess Ida"; Song and Cheer Contest when the 2nd Class song and the 3rd Class cheer came out on top; fickle weather; the Valentine Dance; heart-shaped lollypops and candy in the Senior Parlors; tired legs and aching feet from the Bombay Hook trek; Work Shop Theater's presentation of "My Client Curly" and "The Miser"; Parents' Day with doting parents, self-conscious children and unusually efficient teachers;

March: The night when Castle Adamant was stormed and Princess Ida gave up her cause; Seniors going through the mill with College Boards; the exclusive Cum Laude Banquet at the Farm House; that "few more days 'til vacation" feeling; the Spring Formal with tulle, gardenias and dancing to a real band; going home to recuperate from the school grind.

April: Coming back to school to recuperate from vacation dissipation; Senior pansies after Meeting; open granolithic after supper; races for the tennis courts after Sunday quiet hour; boys' intramural softball teams; college acceptance panic; Senior banquet.

May: Senior tables and coffee; sunbathing on the tennis grandstands; Seniors studying outside; Alumni Day: a grand deluge of old scholars, parents, friends, and kids; "The Merchant of Venice" in the Greenwood; Writer's cramp, strained brains, and lost pens during the seige of Amicus-autograph-seekers.

June: Studying for finals; quiet halls empty of lower classmen's voices; the fabulous Class Day Banquet followed by the Class Day Dance which the faculty prepared for us; Senior party; graduation and those mixed emotions accompanying the final parting.

MABEL M. ELLIOTT

220 South Church St., West Chester, Pa.

Dear Teacher Mabel,

Not only in our senior year but ever since we have been a class of '53 at Westtown, you have shown a tremendous and sincere concern, interest, and love for us; have given us hope, wise guidance, and a boost over the rough spots of our lives. For all this we will ever be grateful.

It is to you we owe all the pleasant memories of those wonderful open-houses, the Valley Forge hike, parties, early morning hymn-singing at the Lake, and so many other friendly get-togethers.

Teacher Mabel, what has been expressed here is but little of the love and gratitude we feel toward you. To the one who has done so much toward bringing our class together and making it what it is, we wish to show our deepest appreciation for everything by dedicating to you this, our Amicus.

True faith and a ready hand

Dear Mabel -
To know that is to love her - and I feel as though I know her every word
I'll always remember the hours and I have shared - both in the classroom and outside Thank her for so many happy experiences. She was much to give in this world please don't ever forget her smile, the friendly spirit, the dedication of all her mind and heart to a great girl -
Sincerely,
This friend
Teacher Mabel

J. BERNARD HAVILAND

Westtown School, Westtown, Pa.

Dear Master Bernie,

We The class of '53 shall long remember your keen sense of humor, youthful companionship, and your good will towards us all. Those of us who participated in the operetta and the Senior and Shakespeare plays shall not soon forget your inspiring direction and the great fun we always had.

Not only shall we have memories of you as the teller-of-tales, and the source of that hearty and spontaneous guffaw, but also as the well-informed and informing teacher of English and Bible.

You have offered us hospitality beyond the call of duty and have contributed generously to our parties, openhouses, and hikes. Ever ready with an expressive gesture and an appropriate story, you always made our get-togethers entertaining.

For adding so much to our last year at Westtown, we're sincerely grateful to you, the honorary member of our class of '53.

What He hath taken from them in bair, He hath given them in wit!

"The long and short of it"

Class History

In 1949 we were a small group of 50 members. "The class of '53, full of brains, brawn and beauty setting out to do their duty" (our theme song Girls' Initiation night) was led by President Fred Sawin and Vice-President Margie Satterthwaite.

The next year our class grew considerably. Dick Trismen and Steffie Hetzel were our leaders; Janet Hetzel was chosen Secretary and Gil Hoag Treasurer. It was in second class that our friend and schoolmate Teddy Jacob was taken from us after a long illness. To preserve our memories of Teddy we held a dedication service for him at which time we planted a pink dogwood along the granolithic, placing by it an inscribed memorial stone.

In first class we elected Lou Matlack and Helen Richardson as our President and Veep. Early in the fall we began having hymn sings down at the lake on Sunday mornings. We'll never forget that wonderful Sunday breakfast at Jacob's after one of our sings.

As each year passed, a stronger union was evident until in this our Senior Year, the class of '53 has become a unified group. This year our President has been Gil Hoag and our Vice-President Helen Richardson. Together we have visited Valley Forge, had picnics at Elephant Rock and Robin Hood's Cabin, given the Senior Play, sung songs, planned, laughed, worried and helped to solve each others problems. Throughout we've had the comradeship, advice and leadership of our Honorary Member, Master Bernie, our Dedicatee, Teacher Mabel, and our class officers.

Though we are leaving Westtown in body, we aren't in our hearts. We'll long remember the friendship we've made with our associates, and those who are and have been our classmates.

Gil Hoag, Kirk Jones, Helen Richardson, Barbara Rusch.

Class Officers

"Service beyond all recompense"

The Class of '53 got off to a fine start this year by electing Gil Hoag and Helen Richardson, President and Vice President, Barbara Rusch, Secretary, and Kirk Jones, Treasurer.

Gil was our treasurer in 2nd Class and has been an active participant in the class goings-on since then. Helen, Vice President last year as well as this, is one of the busiest members of our class, being also co-editor of the school paper. Barbara, the able record-keeper, joined our class last year and showed her abilities as our First Class treasurer. Kirk, who held the post of secretary last year, is our controller of the purse strings.

We are proud of the representation and leadership which our class officers have given us, and we know they will do their best to keep our class together thru the years.

"Cry 'havoc' and let slip the dogs of war"

Beware the Ides of March"

"We burn daylight"

"Such a noise arose"

"Let every man be master of his time"

O! That this too, too solid flesh would melt

A fool's paradise

"Much ado about nothing"

"I am gone forever"

"With bag and baggage"

Class Prophecy

The following document, faithfully recorded by Phil Richardson, is from the eye-witness report by Helen, who vows that it is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, (and you'll get a lot farther in this world). This document is also available in the Latin Vulgate Edition as translated by Juan.

"The famous Atlantic City fortune teller, Liz Ermilio, at the end of her stay at Westtown, gazed intently into the depths of her "8-ball", and croaked

'8-ball, 8-ball, answer me:

Where will we be in '63?'

And during the many concentrated hours of questioning, she startled the attentive witnesses with this most revealing of prophetic discourses, disclosing the facts of what we are destined to be doing on the tenth of June, nineteen hundred and sixty-three A.D.

'While speeding to a movie, Carol Bacon and Carolyn Ford will collide with Bob Fisher, who will be speeding to the side of a sick horse. In traffic court they will meet Dick Allphin, who will have been hauled in for going through a red light. Carolyn will just laugh and laugh!

Edaik will be seen pacing up and down the streets of New York, clutching a portfolio and a prospective customer, and Steffie Hetzel will be selling Hoagies on the corner. Further down a back alley, in Ted Wright's night club Pat Hunt and Jimmie will be giving their nightly performance, Binny will be doing the Charleston, and Laura Spelman will be making the rounds as a cigarette girl. T.H., the dignified head of Alcoholics Anonymous, will be sadly drinking a coke as he waits for his companions Craig Ely and Pat Prabha, who are out in back having a duel.

Laura Comfort is going into the mattress business, and Carol Corkey will be looking for one with built-in book racks.

In the field of politics, the First Lady will be Alice Dewey. Dave and Pete, Incorporated, will be prosecuting attorneys for Dick Trisman, who will have been indicted on charges of corrupt Democratic ward-heeling. The new king of Zanzibar will be Alex Murdoch, and Joe Flanagan will be reigning as world dictator.

Roger Badeau, busy painting a poster of "which Thompson twin has the Ipana smile?" will take a day off from work to hear Bob Banham, the newest male soprano rage at the Met. Next door, Janet Hetzel will be starring in "Where's Charlie?", while at Madison Square Gardens the feature attraction will be Johanning vs. Levering in the welterweight boxing match.

Cecily will have landed a job as publicity agent for the Durham tobacco industry; Jannie Glen will be the head of sales of the Kleenex Company; and Margie will be a marriage counselor at Reno.

Ronald Bodkin, working with Bill Crane, will be proving that the universe is square; Fred Sawin will have just designed a moon rocket that closely resembles a dragon; and Norm Satterthwaite will be in the midst of drawing a coat of arms for the moon men.

According to Ilse Schumann's gossip column, Helga Pfund will have been chosen "Chiclet Queen of North Carolina", Norma French will be married to the Texas oil man of the year, and Nan Haviland will have just sold her "house on the hill". (People in the valley will be asking, "What's the story?" and Jerry Woodard, a rising young detective, will be getting on her trail to find out.)

Charlie Thompson will finally have succeeded in crossing the mushroom with the apple tree, and Jane Lippincott will be trying to sell this product to the Service Committee. The best seller of the year will be "A Biography of Colonel", written by Kirk Jones; and according to Heather Jenkins, librarian of Princeton, it will enjoy a large circulation. The "Daily Worker", edited by Doug Meaker, will also be very popular there, and will be read constantly by Char Penfield, the new Princeton "water boy".

In the rival "Boston Herald" (which Wendy will be editing) we will read that Dottie Stafford is the new chairman of the "Dressmakers for Liberty Club", and that Betsy Huff is heading the P.C.N. Committee (Prevention of Cruelty to Navajoes). Fashion columnist Dorry Gilbert will herald long braids as the latest hair style, and Joyce Hunter will be running a column entitled "Advice for the Lonely Hearts".

Neil Plass will finally have calculated that Jerry Michener (then teaching French at the Sorbonne) is his fifth cousin twice removed. Doug Kinsey will have just returned from 40 days in the wilderness; Don Emmons will be finding himself the first "hoomen bean" in the Okefenochee Swamp; and Terry Jacob will be somewhere in Mexico with her new husband, the famous Prince of Wails.

Peggy James will have established a foundling home on a small island in the Pacific, the same island where Tom Oliver will be making a living catching animals for Alex Wilson's zoo.

Kit will donate her first million for night lights at Westtown, which will make Joyce Canady's job easier as advisor to overworked seniors. When Ralph Fairchild proves that 2 plus 2 make 5, Lou Matlack, an efficiency expert, will compute the amount of time taken in the Fairchild calculations.

Bunny will be president of Pembroke, and Chris Johnston, the last southerner to surrender, will be teaching Northern industrial methods at Duke. Felicia will be attempting to give drivers' training instruction at Westtown.

Janet McClure, the Mother Superior in a convent, is going to be shocked to see Dottie Franks as the newest trapeze artist at Barnum and Bailey's, and to learn that Ethel Garrett is a fan dancer in the Ice Follies. Joyce Lower will add to her astonishment by marching up in her Wac uniform and declaring that "This is a man's army!"

Erich Bonnet is going to announce that it was in 5623 B.C. that the Egyptians invented hieroglyphics, not in 5630 as everyone had thought.

George Baer, after purchasing a string of thoroughbred race horses, will hire Pat Grevatt as exerciser and stable girl, though the truth is that her main job will be braiding their tails (the horses', that is.)

Don Stoneham, using his new rapid repeating, multiple shot water pistol, will start Tom Meyer and Steve Payson on their race up Niagra Falls. Crowds will throng the shore line, and even Barbara Rusch will leave the Pocono Lake Preserve to witness this event.

But take heed, ye unbelievers: laught not, for verily I say unto you, these things shall be! (And a truer word was never said!)

Then came John the Taylor, who witnessing all these things, questioned Liz saying, 'What are these things which you say will come to pass? Is the 8-ball not an instrument of the devil, fit only for the false prophets of a gullible peoples? And is there not a logical answer to its mysterious powers?' At this the crowd murmured among themselves; but Liz denied these things, for her belief was strong, and challenging the Taylor, she cried out defiantly to the surrounding multitude, 'If there be one among you who can deliver proof of the falseness of this 8-ball of many powers, let him come forward.'

These words having been uttered, there arose from the crowd the tall figure of Gil the Bostonite, who came as in a rage to the clearing, for he had formerly looked into these things and understood them. Seizing the ball, he threw it mightily onto the Granolithic (from lithos, meaning stone) so that it was dashed to a thousand and one pieces. There was great weeping and wailing and gnashing to teeth; and the voice of Helga could be heard above the rest crying, 'Oh, oh, oh, woe is me, for my idol is undone, and I am sorely depressed!'

Class Will

We the class of '53 in the presence of certified witnesses do declare that we are of sound mind and body and wish to leave a few sentimental possessions with those who are left to carry on after we have departed.

Peg James wills her glasses to anyone who doesn't want to walk in a fog.

Norm Satterthwaite wills his South Phillie peg pants to Bob Canetta.

Ediak Rinden leaves her shattering scream to Craigie Hammond.

Pat Prabha leaves the American league pennant to the Washington Senators.

Barbara Rusch wills those many speedy miles in the driver training car to Herm Feissner.

Neil Plass leaves his licorice stick abilities to Sally Cadbury.

Heather Jenkins leaves her speed to Mona Johanning.

Tom Oliver leaves his self control for not having one cigarette in his Senior year to Murray.

Dot Stafford leaves her potted plants to Wendell Oliver.

Roger Badeau wills his classical music to Dick Kelly.

Nan Haviland leaves her red one piece zipper pajamas to anyone who does not share her views on the house on the hill.

John Taylor leaves his chairmanship of the mock election to some industrious soul four years hence.

Marsie Levering leaves her meek and insignificant laugh to Denny Walters.

Charlie Thompson wills a Mushroom Supply Co. calendar to the next occupant of the Glass Palace.

Alex Wilson leaves the ability to lose her purse to anyone as absent-minded as she is.

Dick Trismen leaves an "I like Ike" button for Master Carroll and Master Al to fight over.

Dorothy Gilbert wills her poodle cut to Laura Davis.

Dick Allphin wills his love of foreign sports cars to Herman Feissner.

Cecily Bernheim leaves her love of Pogo to anyone who can find time to read it.

Ronald Bodkin wills one slightly used tennis racket to Phil Stevenson.

Ethel Garrett leaves her many packs of chewing gum to Teacher Rachel.

Jerry Michener leaves his position as goalie to anyone who is too lazy to play soccer.

Phil Richardson wills his sister's chem experiments to any future chemist.

Steffie Hetzel wills a box of Wheaties to next years hockey captain.

Ralph Fairchild wills the Fairchild permission system to Danny Wills.

Jannie Glen leaves the responsibility of checking up on Teacher Rachel to anyone who can stay up all night waiting for her.

Doug Kinsey leaves the tradition of upholding the Oberlin spirit to the next Oberlinite who comes along.

Joyce Lower wills those unrecorded excursions home to Mimi Oliver.

Steve Payson leaves his hair trainer and bathing cap to John Steufferud.

Don Emmonds leaves all trig to Master Charlie.

Jane Lippincott leaves the left-over sandwiches for next year's Service Committee sales.

Bob Banham doesn't will anything to anyone on the grounds that no one should get something for nothing.

Betsey Huff leaves her ability to swim to Maya Alderson.

Linda Johanning wills the responsibility of her sister to Master Gordon.

Tom Meyer leaves his remorse at leaving Westtown to the next senior class.

Bunny Barrett wills the South African Veld music to Squeaky Mitchell and Sally Barton.

Jerry Woodard wills all his detention to Dave Valentine.

Carol Bacon and Carolyn Ford will room 236 and all its disadvantages to anyone who can find its one advantage.

Joyce Canady wills her mathematical ability to Ginno Wickham.

Don Stoneham leaves those Sundays in the dark room to the next B. & W. Photographer.

Janet McClure leaves her quart bottle of peroxide to Betty Vail.

Fred Sawin wills $10,000,000 in dimes and nickels to a particular Junior Member of Bofsto.

Helga Pfund leaves a ticket to Cherokee, N.C. to Kathy Preston.

Felicia Forsythe wills the task of supporting Lower Merion to Barbara Comroe.

Pete Platenius and Dave Willcox leave their law practice to any up and coming illegal young man with a big shovel.

Janet Hetzel wills her last asprin to the '54 Amicus editor.

Carol Corkey leaves all her week-ends home to Jackie Sackett.

Joe Flanagan leaves his Bofsto keys to the highest bidder.

Alex Murdoch wills his room to any slob who wants it.
Helen Richardson wills her earnest attempts at "Senior dignity" to Denny Walters.
Doug Meaker leaves all Stone House boys to anyone who wants them.
Alice Dewey and Laura Comfort will their two re-used horsehair mattresses to whomever is sucker enough to take them.
George Baer leaves Chemistry and the Chem. lab. to Colonel.
Craig Ely wills his tennis ability to that plumber Alan Cook.
Char Penfield wills her TV set to Squeaky Mitchell in hopes that her father will soon make another appearance.
Bill Crane leaves his French verb wheel to Hassie Caplan.
Norma French wills her five years at Westtown to anyone else who can live through that many.
Juan Godoy leaves his knowledge of spanish swear words to Doug Murray.
Chris Johnston leaves his confederate tradition and Confederate garter, to Ed Macon.
Ilse Schumann leaves her "white bucks" to Happy Parry.
Gil Hoag leaves his ability to get along with Masters to Dumph.
Jimmie James wills her concerts in the "tower" to Sybil Stocking.
T. H. Johnson wills his "eehh" to Doug Murray.
Liz Ermilio wills her feather cut to Liz Hole.
Bob Fisher leaves his broken leg to any dumb center forward who wants it.
Wendy Walcott wills her teeth to anyone who can find them.
Binny Haviland leaves his cigarette holder to Hassie Caplan.
Pat Grevatt wills her horse sense to Gail Wolcott.
Kirk Jones leaves the North-side fire escape to anyone who can use it as well as he has.
Terry Jacob wills her trips abroad to Marilyn deBeus.
Lou Matlack leaves his collection of ponies and outlines to anyone fortunate enough to acquire them or who wants to make Honor Roll.
Kit Woods wills her apothecary shop on her bureau to anyone with an understanding wife.
Ted Wright leaves Girls' end, with much regret, to Teacher Anne.
Dottie Franks wills her Jazz records to anyone who can stand them.
Laura Spelman leaves all her weekends home to Arthur Gans.
Pat Hunt wills her love of dancing to Val McCloskey.
Sally Thompson decides that she needs what little she has.
Ellen Thompson leaves her trips to the sewing room to Mimi Oliver.
Joyce Hunter leaves the cookie enterprise to Barbara Comroe.
Eric Bonnet's will was submitted too late to go to press.

Class Song

"Best that ever was sung"

Dear Westtown, we sing to thee
Our love, our loyalty
As ever more in memory
Our thoughts shall turn again to thee.

For when we're far away
Thy love with us will stay.
We know that we will ever be
A symbol of thy harmony.

We've made within thy halls
Our true, our closest friends,
With this our love for thee,
Westtown, in us e'er blends.

By the lake quiet at dawn
Our voices join in song,
And we the class of fifty three
Praise thee to eternity.

IN
OUR FRIEND and CLASSMATE

Dear Nance,

Well, those percise plans we had been building since the seventh grade about rooming together have certainly changed- but I guess thats part of growing up. And I think growing up's about the most fun anyone ever had. No matter how many books grown-ups write on "Handling Teenagers," "Adolescent Problems," "The awkward years," etc.- I think it's (GREAT'!

BIDDLE Instruments

OUR FOUNDER, James G. Biddle, had a unique faculty of sensing the needs of his customers and searching out and presenting to scientists, educators and engineers those precision instruments which would be helpful to them. In 1895 he founded a business based on a firm belief in personal relationship and a sincere desire to perform a special service not elsewhere available.

Today we offer to these groups an ever increasing variety of electrical and scientific instruments of unquestioned reputation and quality.
